KENT ABERNATHY

Abernathy, Ashley in runoff for Pct 3 Wingo, Dolle win outright

By Phillip Williams

Upshur County Republican primary voters on Tuesday of last week nominated Gene Dolle for Precinct 1 county commissioner and Ronnie Mitchell for Precinct 3 constable, while throwing races for Precinct 3 commissioner and Precinct 4 constable into May 26 runoffs.

Kent Abernathy and Michael Ashley landed in the runoff for commissioner, while David Thompson and incumbent Larry Sewell made the one for constable.

Early voting for those races is set May 18-22.

In the Precinct 3 commissioner race, Abernathy led Ashley by a more than 2-1 margin, 629-296, in the five-candidate race, but fell well short of avoiding a runoff. Defeated were Richard Smith, 270; Robert Green, 265; and Daphne Anne Grimes, 192. Abernathy won two of three boxes, while Ashley won Pritchett, where Smith placed second and Abernathy third. Individual boxes' results: St. James Baptist Church--Abernathy 310, Green 112, Ashley 28, Smith 20, Grimes 19 Pritchett--Ashley 183, Smith 160, Abernathy 150, Grimes 129, Green 92; Big Sandy--Abernathy 169, Smith 90, Ashley 85, Green 61, Grimes 44

Abernathy and Ashley seek to succeed retiring incumbent commissioner Frank Berka.

In the Gregg County race for Pct. 3 commissioner, Floyd Wingo of White Oak defeated former Kilgore mayor Joe T. Parker. Wingo received 2,396 votes to Parker's 1,024.

In a pair of Gregg County constable races, Billy Fort, the Pct. 2 incumbent, won re-election, taking 1,892 votes to John Bisese's 695.

Winning the constable precinct three race was Kilgore's John Slagle, who had been appointed to the office to fill out the term. Slagle beat John McCubbin 1,994 votes to McCubbin's 1,308.

In the Upshur County Precinct 4 constable contest, Thompson led the three-candidate field with 704 while Sewell drew 555. Defeated was Phillip M. Hill, who formerly held the office, with 263.

Dolle, who is in his second term as his precinct's constable, won his three-candidate Pct. 1 commissioner race outright with 852 votes, or 51.64 percent, defeating Gladewater Mirror publisher Jim Bardwell with 403 and James Noble with 395 in complete, unofficial returns. (All returns listed hereafter are also complete, but unofficial.)

Dolle carried all four boxes in his race. Totals were as follows: Ashland Masonic Lodge at Diana--Dolle 107, Noble, 63, Bardwell 40; Glenwood--Dolle 275, Bardwell, 63, Noble 57; East Mountain--Dolle 280, Noble 196, Bardwell 190; Indian Rock Baptist Church--Dolle 190, Bardwell 110, Noble 79 (including an absentee vote for Noble from Precinct 19, which was consolidated with the church's box, and thus not shown in the overall total for the church's box)

The Upshur County Grand Jury returned 23 indictments, eight of them sealed, and no-billed two cases Thursday in Gilmer, said District Attorney Billy Byrd.

* Constance June Martin, 46, of Avinger, possession of controlled substance (methamphetamine) last May 17, $10,000

The name(s) of anyone charged in the sealed indictments was withheld since no arrest has been made in those cases, Byrd said.

They included two for driving while intoxicated--subsequent offense, and one each for cruelty to non-livestock animals, fraudulent use/possession of identifying information, evading arrest/detention with vehicle, evading arrest/detention with previous conviction, possession of controlled substance and delivery of dangerous drug.

OPINION/EDITORIAL

Politics & Statesmanship?

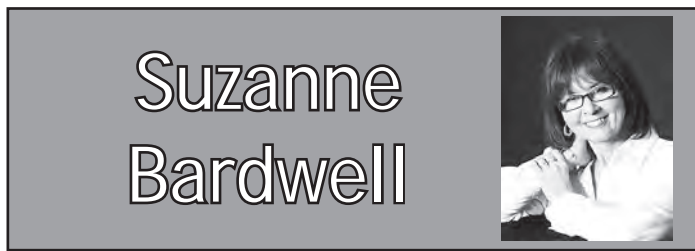

My sweetheart recently ran for Upshur County Commissioner. Unfortunately he did not win despite the fact that he is well-educated on local, county, regional and state issues. He personally has state and national legislators on speed dial. He has ideas for revenue streams that have nothing to do with taxes. Imagine that!

He spoke at four forums which was quite the effort for a fellow who exercises his voice by writing instead of speaking. But I thought he did a fabulous job of making his point. Maybe he should have just told stories, or touted his family's background in law enforcement, or told more about serving on the Upshur County Child Protective Services board or the Gregg County Crime Stoppers. He didn't tout the number of guns he owns. Maybe he should have. Jim didn't run on what he has done elsewhere, he ran on what he could do for the taxpayers and the future. I am mighty proud of my sweetheart's desire to serve and make a difference.

Unfortunately, Jim didn't come away with the win, but he did come away with some great new friends, including one of his opponents, James Noble. That says a great deal about both men. He also made some new friends from other precincts who are also focused on the future of their corner of the world.

My heart is not bruised by his loss of the election, but it is bruised by the lack of knowledge on the part of not only many voters, but their influencers as well. First, I am not sure that a lot of the folks who think they are Republicans or Democrats even know what the parties actually stand for anymore.

I hear a lot about the 2nd amendment, which in Texas, will unlikely ever be under serious threat. Nearly all of us own a boatload of guns that most of us know very well how to use. But from some of the rhetoric you would have thought the crazed anarchists from Portland,

Suzanne Bardwell

Oregon were on their way to the Gilmer Courthouse to storm it and take those guns. That's the issue? Not how to come up with more money to fix roads and bridges? How to attract business to the area and expand the tax base without further burdening the taxpayers?

Voters have always been swayed by rhetoric. There is nothing new about that, but it has always been my hope, especially as a former high school teacher, that the majority of political rhetoric will be intelligent and informed.

But in today's world from the national to the local level, in both parties, it is often fear driven rhetoric that results not in a marketplace of ideas, or debate, or possible solutions, but paranoia and anger and division. Frankly I am sick of it. Please listen to this experienced social studies/American History teacher (and YES American history is being taught in Texas schools—if you don't think so go sit in on some classes. That might do you better than passing around Facebook postings that say kids aren't being taught, but I digress...again).

Let me just remind you that the worst times in mankind's recent history were when rhetoric was screamed by a fascist like Hitler, or a communist like Stalin or Pol Pot, and millions upon millions died. Fear-mongering is a tactic to draw votes. And if we succumb to such tactics, shame on us. We will certainly get what we deserve and it won't be statesmanship.

Trump, Biden emerge as winners in Texas primaries

AUSTIN — Incumbent President Donald J. Trump, who received 94% of the vote in the Lone Star State's Republican primary election, and former Vice President Joe Biden, who received 34.5 percent of the vote in the Democratic primary, were their parties' top vote-getters on March 3, Super Tuesday.

Biden's closest rival was Vermont Sen. Bernie Sanders, who received 30% of the Democratic vote. Sanders was followed by former New York Mayor Michael Bloomberg, 14.4%, and Massachusetts Sen. Elizabeth Warren, 11.4%.

Overall voter turnout figures posted by the Texas Secretary of State's Elections Division show 4,084,431 of the state's 16,211,198 registered voters cast a ballot — slightly more than 25% of total registered voters. That's a higher participation rate than in the 2016 Super Tuesday vote. Then, 3,289,218 Texans cast a ballot, or 23% of the 14,238,436 voters who were registered at the time.

In a major down-ballot race, state Sen. Royce West, D-Dallas, and former Air Force helicopter pilot M.J. Hegar, will face each other in a May 26 Democratic primary runoff. The winner will run against long-term incumbent U.S. Sen. John Cornyn, a Republican, in the Nov. 3 general election.

Complete election results are available at the Texas Secretary of State's website, sos.texas.gov.

City cancels festival

The city of Austin and Travis County on March 6 declared a "local state of disaster" in response to what officials called an increasing concern over novel coronavirus — COVID-19 — the deadly flu-like contagion that has developed into a worldwide health threat.

Austin Mayor Steve Adler issued a related order canceling the South by Southwest festival, an event that has been hosted annually by the capital city since 1987. To illustrate the rapidity of the local decision-making process, only two days earlier, Austin's public health department stated that "there's no evidence that closing SXSW or any other gatherings will make the community safer."

Dr. Mark Escott, commenting on behalf of the department on March 6, said, "While there is no clear guidance on what local jurisdictions should do under these circumstances, our local expert advisory panel took a look at the risk factors and identified a number of concerns."

The SXSW festival, a global magnet for music lovers, the film and media industries and educators usually attracts more than 150,000 attendees over a 10-day period.

Abbott: Texas can test

Texas now has the capacity to test for COVID-19, Gov. Greg Abbott announced on March 5 in a joint press conference with Department of State Health Services Commissioner John Hellerstedt and Texas Division of Emergency Management Chief Nim Kidd.

Six public health labs within the Texas Laboratory Response Network are now equipped to perform COVID-19 testing, with the remaining four being fully equipped in the coming days, Abbott said. The network provides laboratory diagnostics and maintains the capacity to respond to biological and chemical threats and other public health emergencies. The six public health labs within the network that are equipped to perform COVID-19 tests include Austin, Houston, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth and Lubbock. The remaining four labs in the network will be equipped with testing capabilities in the coming days: Tyler, San Antonio, Corpus Christi and Harlingen. The state public health lab network will be able to test over 125 patients per day once the entire network is equipped, Abbott added.

Gov, AG warn gougers

Gov. Abbott and Attorney General Ken Paxton on March 6 issued a warning to anyone participating in price-gouging of medical supplies as Texas continues to combat the potential threat of the coronavirus.

Abbott said he would invoke a state law that gives Paxton "broader powers" to prosecute price gougers. Texans who suspect a case of price-gouging related to the potential coronavirus threat should file a consumer complaint with the Consumer Protection Division of the Office of the Attorney General of Texas, Abbott said. Consumer Protection Hotline: (800) 621-0508.

Revenue total reported

Texas Comptroller Glenn Hegar on March 3 said state sales tax revenue totaled $2.89 billion in February, an amount 3.5 percent more than the amount reported in February 2019.

Growth in state sales tax revenue was led by receipts from the retail trade and information services sectors, while receipts from the construction sector were down from a year ago and growth in tax receipts from retail trade was slightly boosted by collections from online marketplace providers and remote sellers, Hegar said.

THE ECONOMIST

By Dr. M. Ray Perryman

The Cup

Texas has again claimed the "Governor's Cup," which Site Selection Magazine awards to the state with the most major corporate locations and expansions in the past year. It's the eighth consecutive win for the state, and Texas has been at or near the top for some 15 years (not coincidentally, that's about when notable economic development legislation was passed and implemented).

To be counted as a major project, initiatives must involve a capital investment of at least $1 million, 20 or more new jobs, or 20,000 square feet of new construction. In 2019, Texas had 859 such projects, far ahead of second-place Ohio (with 448), Illinois (423), Georgia (296), and Indiana (194). The number of Texas projects is also well above 2018's 608, and the Lone Star State ranked seventh in projects on a per-capita basis (no small accomplishment given its large population).

Texas captured three of the six largest projects in terms of capital investment, as well as one of the largest for numbers of new jobs. Of note is the fact that each of these major facilities was in a different industry, reflecting the rich diversity of the state. The TI semiconductor plant in Richardson was the largest project nationwide last year, with a capital investment of some $3.1 billion. ExxonMobil Chemical is investing $2 billion in Baytown, Steel Dynamics is spending $1.9 billion in Sinton, and the Elemental Processing facility in Houston which produces yarns/fibers will create 4,000 jobs.

In comments regarding the Cup, Governor Abbott described the importance of trade agreements to Texas' success (couldn't agree more). He also discussed the need for workforce training and improvements in public and higher education including efforts such as upskilling, ensuring students at all levels are prepared and that those who pursue higher education and workforce trainings can complete those programs in a cost-efficient and timely manner. In the next Session he indicated that higher education should be a top priority, along with reducing regulatory burdens.

As I've discussed previously, Texas is facing challenges such as falling behind in attracting the most innovative workers. We also need to invest in a variety of priorities ranging from education to infrastructure. The state's economic development programs are working, and they should be fully supported (and, in some cases, modernized).

Continued forward progress is crucial, because success doesn't come by happenstance. It requires providing what businesses need to succeed, from a well-trained workforce to the necessary highways and water supplies. The many economic development professionals across Texas who work to enhance prosperity in their areas and the state are also essential, and the Governor's Cup win bears tribute to their success. Eight is great, but eight is not enough!!

CAN YOU IMAGINE?

Imagine, is defined, "To suppose, guess, think; form a mental image of something that is not present or that is not the case." I think of John Lennon's song: "Imagine." It is true, as he says, that people can imagine that there is no heaven, or hell, or religion, and that all people will live together in peace, but as Psalms 2: 1 says, they "imagine a vain thing."

But, for the purpose of this article, Can you imagine, the apostle Paul saying: "We were sprinkled with Him through baptism?" (Rom. 6: 4). The apostle Peter saying: "There is nothing in a name?" (Acts 4: 12). Luke saying: "Those who were saved joined the church of their choice?" (Acts 2: 47). Jude saying: "I don't think it is right to argue about the Bible?" (Jude 3). The apostle Peter saying: "Baptism does not save" or it is "not essential to salvation?" (1 Pet. 3: 21). James saying: "Man is saved by faith only?" (Jas. 2: 24). Ananias saying: "Brother Saul, get down and pray to get rid of your sins, calling on the name of the Lord?" (Acts 22: 16). The apostle Paul saying: "You cannot fall from grace?" (Gal. 5: 4). The apostle Paul saying, "You don't have to obey the gospel to be saved?" (2 Thess. 1: 7-9). Jesus saying: "One church is as good as another?" (Matt. 16: 18; Acts 20: 28). Jesus saying: "There are many ways to get to heaven?" (Jn. 14: 6). The apostle Paul saying: "One church is as good as another?" (Eph. 4: 4; 1: 22-23).

If you can imagine such things, you need to understand that there is a great difference in the Book of God and the book of one's own imagination! John Lennon was a dreamer, but I prefer not to believe or imagine things that are not present or that are not the truth! What about you my friend? Think on these things.

LAST MINUTE TAX TIPS

Boost retirement contributions

Contributing as much as you can to your retirement — via, for example, an individual retirement account — is one of the best ways to reap a tax benefit.

“By contributing to an IRA, you directly reduce your taxable income and save for your retirement at the same time,” said Picnic Tax Founder Ryan McInnis.

Plus, you have until the April 15 tax deadline to set up and contribute to an IRA — and still have it count toward the 2019 tax year.

If you work for yourself, you can also make tax-deductible contributions to a Simplified Employee Pension account, or SEP IRA. The limit is up to 25% of net earnings, for a maximum contribution of $56,000 this year. You still have until April 15 to open and fund a SEP IRA and have it count on your return.

Fund a health savings account

Another way to reduce your taxable income is to contribute to health savings account, or HSA. (You need what’s known as a high-deductible health plan to do this). And, you have until the April deadline to do so for the 2019 tax year.

“Health savings account contributions can reduce your income eligible for taxation, as well as help with planning future medical costs,” said McInnis. “That’s always a good thing for your personal finances in the long run.”

You can contribute up to $3,500 if you're single. The limit goes to $7,000 for couples and families. You can add an extra $1,000, if you're 55 or older. HSAs are also a great way to grow your nest egg. The money you put in an HSA has triple tax advantages: The contributions go in pretax, you can withdraw it tax-free for qualified medical expenses and any money you don't use can be invested and, as with an IRA or 401(k) plan, the gains are tax-deferred.

Greenwood Cemetery hosts period tour

In celebration of Longview's sesquicentennial, the city's oldest burial ground, Greenwood Cemetery, will host a 'Walk through History' with greeters in period costume and more than a dozen 'deceased' individuals of historic significance sharing their stories. The cemetery is located immediately south of Christus Good Shepherd Medical Center at 705 Magrill Street. Gates open Saturday, March 14 at 10 a.m. The last tour will begin at 11:30 a.m. The Greenwood Cemetery Association sponsored event is free to the public and part of the Junior League of Longview's Passport Program for area students.

family, lost in the 1900 Galveston Hurricane, will share their story, as well as "the little lost girl" whose iron casket was accidentally unearthed in downtown and later interred at Greenwood.

Some of the historic characterizations by volunteer actors include Ossamus Methvin, Mayor Gabriel Bodenheim, Congressman Reese DeGraffenreid, businessman Frank T. Rembert, Viola Bivins, Mary Noel Moberly, Judge J.N. Campbell and George Addison Kelly with an authentic Kelly Plow. The Levy in the northwest corner of the cemetery to remind visitors that Native Americans were original inhabitants, as well as an African American employee of the historic Magnolia Hotel will remind visitors that cemeteries were historically segregated. Children will have the opportunity to do a gravestone rubbing. In case of inclement weather, the tour will be Sunday, March 15 at 2 p.m.

The Lady Pirates' bats were ablaze as Pittsburg took a 10-0 lead to the middle of the third inning. Sabine found their rhythm in the bottom of the aforementioned inning rattling off 7 runs of their own before Pitt could find that elusive third out. Back in the batter's box, the Lady Pirates got back to business putting five more runners across home plate. The Lady Cards would only manage one run before the fourth inning came to a close. The score would remain 15-8 over the next two and a half innings before Sabine began to rally in the bottom of the seventh. With two outs and two strikes and down by 3 runs, Kyrissa Camacho blasted the ball deep to left field, bringing in two runners and putting herself on third base representing the tying run. Pitt managed to get the third out with a throw to first against the next batter bringing the three hour marathon and the Lady Card's rally to an end. The hot start for the Lady Pirates proved crucial as they escaped Sabine 15-14.

Texas A&M system delivers guidance on COVID-19

COLLEGE STATION — Due to concerns about the global outbreak of COVID-19, The Texas A&M University System issued new restrictions last week on foreign travel that impacts the students, faculty and staff of its network of 11 universities and eight state agencies.

"We have no greater responsibility than to promote the health and safety of students, faculty and staff," wrote Chancellor John Sharp in a letter to university presidents and agency directors. "We also are responsible for promoting public health, especially during this period of global uncertainty."

Beginning immediately, the Texas A&M System is taking the following actions to protect students, faculty and staff:

Strongly discourage all foreign travel by Texas A&M System students, faculty and staff while the outbreak of COVID-19 remains a dynamically changing and uncertain situation.

Prohibit payment for System-sponsored travel to all countries identified as Level 1 or greater risk by the CDC Health Notice Warning system. The only exception is for "mission-critical" personnel working on the response to COVID-19.

Encourage all students, faculty and staff to return from all Level 1 or higher risk countries as soon as can be practically arranged.

Direct students, faculty and staff to report all personal international travel to the university if they have traveled to a Level 1 or greater risk country.

Require students, faculty, staff and visitors traveling from countries with risk levels of 2 and 3 to self-isolate for a 14-day period before returning to school or work. Monitoring/isolation should follow the latest CDC guidelines, which currently suggest at least 14 days without symptoms.

Require students to self-monitor and isolate at an off-campus or family residence whenever practical. Students should contact their university if these options are impractical.

Direct students with symptoms not to just show up at campus health centers but call ahead so medical personnel can be prepared or can direct the students to local health authorities.

Reimburse students for reasonable expenses associated with cancelled school-sponsored trips.

Create a System-level reserve to assist universities with extraordinary costs associated with the crisis response.

Continue to raise public awareness and encourage people to keep themselves safe by washing their hands with soap and water for 20 seconds, covering their coughs, avoid touching their eyes, nose or mouth with unwashed hands, and staying home when ill.

Provide information on System websites and on regular social media updates.

Create an expert medical response team.

appointment before resigning for health reasons - defeated his appointed successor, Big Sandy police officer Ryan Ludvigson, 887 to 648. Mitchell carried two of three boxes in his race, losing only to Ludvigson in Big Sandy, where the incumbent led 271-165.

Winning the GOP primary or runoff for the two commissioner seats and two constable posts is tantamount to election since the party's nominee will have no Democratic or third-party opponent in the November general election. The only Republican nominee for county office facing opposition in November is County Tax Assessor-Collector Luana Howell, seeking re-election against the only Democrat who sought county office, Jurel White.

Howell and White were unopposed in their respective primaries. Also unopposed for county office were Sheriff Larry Webb, seeking re-election; Tim Barnett, running to succeed Dolle as Precinct 1 constable; and Precinct 2 Constable Jason Weeks, seeking re-election, meaning their nominations are tantamount to election in November.

In the only contested race for a Republican precinct chairmanship, which was for Precinct 16 in Gladewater, incumbent John Lee Ussery easily defeated Jennifer Audet, 209-97, in complete, unofficial returns. DeBorah Storm Cloud Bankston was unopposed to succeed incumbent Cynthia Ridgeway as county GOP chairman, while County Democratic chairman Winifred Jackson was unopposed for re-election.)
